

2023 SIS Themed Conference

'Affect, Sensation, Emotion'

7-8 September 2023, Selwyn College, Cambridge

This draft version of the programme, current as of 21 July, is subject to change. For queries, contact the organizers at sis.conference.2023@gmail.com.
Registration is now open: <https://forms.gle/wqPbPVfRnhtXaqAh8>.

7 September

8.45	Registration (the Auditorium)
9.15	Opening remarks (the Auditorium)
	Session 1 (the Auditorium)	Session 2 (the Diamond)	Session 3 (the Chadwick Room)	Session 4 (the Walters Room)
9.30-11	Negative Affects: Absence and Loss 1. Jonny Wiles (University of Cambridge), 'AAA Cercasi: Absence, Affect, and Antiquity in Dante's Commedia' 2. Frey Kalus (University of Cambridge / Freie Universität Berlin), 'The Politics of Grief in Dante and Thom Gunn' 3. Rebecca Walker (Trinity College Dublin), 'Hard Feelings: Elena Ferrante and the Feminist Potential of Negative Emotion' 4. Andrea Sartori (Nankai University), 'Il cuore oltre l'ostacolo. La "via italiana" alla nuova fenomenologia e una ricon siderazione di Marino Moretti (1885-1979)'	Affective Ecology and Landscapes 1. Alessia Carrai (University of Cambridge), 'Affective Landscapes and Dante's "selva antica"' 2. Francesca Southerden (University of Oxford), "Sensibil terra": Affect and Ecology in Petrarch's Rvf 22' 3. Marina Spunta (University of Leicester), 'Affective Gardens: Pia Pera's Garden as Material Spirituality' 4. Marco Ceravolo (University College Cork), '"Spirit! Folletti! Bestioline in pena!". L'impegno animalista di Dino Buzzati e Anna Maria Ortese	Mobile Affects, Mobile Objects, Mobile People 1. Chiara Giuliani (University College Cork), 'Emotional Stuff: Affect and Material Culture in Italian Transnational Literature' 2. Monica Miscali (Norwegian University of Science and Technology), 'Leaving Alone: Emotions and Migration of Italian Women to Norway from 1960 until Today' 3. Erica Bellia (University of Cambridge), 'Affective Labour in Italian Industrial Literature' 4. Dario Galassini (University College Cork), 'Affects, Subjectivities, and Factory	Affective Communities and Community Building 1. Michela Sereni (National University of Ireland, Galway), 'Il Risorgimento letterario. La patria e le emozioni' 2. Carla Panico (University of Coimbra), 'Italianità e alterità. Per una storia affettiva dei processi di produzione dell'identità nazionale' 3. Noreen Kane (University College Cork), 'Trauma, Sensation, and Affect in the Work of Igliaba Scego' 4. Patrizia Sambuco (University of Dundee), 'Sensing Migration'

		tra narrativa e produzione giornalistica'	Work: Vittorio Sereni's Una visita in fabbrica '
	Tea, coffee, and pastries
11.30-13	Affects and Bodily Languages 1. Jessica Maratsos (University of Cambridge), 'Affective Anatomy and the Early Modern Body' 2. Lisi Feng (Nankai University), "Molto porgeranno suo proprio movimento d'animo": trasmettere affetti e movimenti nella letteratura artistica rinascimentale' 3. Carlotta Paltrinieri (Royal Holloway, University of London), "In che modo dal temperamento del corpo si conoschino gli affetti dell'animo": An Overlooked Manuscript at the Intersection of Natural Philosophy and Art Theory'	Second-hand Emotion (What's Love Got to Do with it?) 1. Nicolas Longinotti (Freie Universität Berlin), 'Virtuous and Vulnerable Communities: Petrarch's Love and Forgiveness in Francesco Filelfo's and Antonio Da Tempo's Quattrocento Commentaries on RVF 1' 2. Francesca Santucci (Università di Genova), «Mal d'amore Tatjana affligge». Dal desiderio amoroso alla malattia nell'Onegin tradotto da Giovanni Giudici' 3. Laura Lucia Rossi (University of Leeds), 'Un penoso amore. Becoming a Daughter and Becoming a Writer in Maria Grazia'	Negative Affects: Fear 1. Aistė Kiltinavičiūtė (University of Cambridge / University College Cork), 'Fight or Flight: The Fear of Flying in Dante's Comedy' 2. George Rayson (University of Cambridge), 'Hair-raising in Inferno' 3. Ylenia Papa (University for Foreigners of Perugia), 'Loci on Fear in Quadriregio by Federico Frezzi' 4. Alessio Panichi (Johns Hopkins University), 'Not Just Chapter XVI: The Functions of Fear in Niccolò Machiavelli's The Prince'	Across the Five Senses: the Histories of Sensation and Emotion 1. Simon Gilson (University of Oxford), 'External and Internal Senses in Cristoforo Landino's Commento sopra la Comedia (1481)' 2. Gur Zak (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), 'Leonardo Bruni and the Philology of Emotions' 3. Paola Casella (Universität Zürich), 'La retorica degli affetti nella letteratura: riflessioni metodologiche' 4. Maria Silvia Marini (La Sapienza University, Rome), 'Percezione e conoscenza: il caso della gnoseologia leopardiana nel contesto intellettuale europeo'

		Calandrone and Jeanette Winterson'
	Selwyn lunch (Hall; pay-for-yourself)
14-15.30	Troubling Affective Margins 1a. Nicolò Crisafi (University of Cambridge), 1b. and Giulia Boitani (University of Cambridge), 'Troubling Joy: Affective Disorders of Happiness from Jaufre Rudel to Dante and Iacopone' 2. Alessandro Toma (Humboldt University of Berlin), 'Feeling Between and Beyond the Margins: Negative and Positive Affects in the Narrative World-Model of Elena Ferrante's My Brilliant Friend' 3. Valentina Serio (University of Pisa), 'Melancholy and Political Dissent in Leon Battista Alberti's Profugorum ab Aerumna'	Controlling and Rewriting Affect 1. Annamaria Azzarone (Sorbonne Université), «Caro Lardello, Lardelletto, Lardelluccio, Lardellucciuccio»: Analysing Giovan Battista Andreini's characters' Emotions through Language' 2. Laura Di Blasi (University of Melbourne), 'Rewriting as Discursive Authority: Laura Terracina's Discorso on Orlando Furioso' 3. Olivia Santovetti (University of Leeds), 'Books as "organismi pulsanti": Elena Ferrante, Goodreads, and the Emotional Experience of Reading' 4. Camilla Tibaldo (Scuola Normale Superiore), 'Le forme del pathos: «iterazione	Reworking Medieval Affects 1. Valentina Mele (University of Leeds), 'Sighs, Voice, and Poetic Subjectivity. The Reception of Medieval Culture in the Poetry and Poetics of Jack Spicer' 2. Kristina Landa (Università di Bologna), 'La letizia della divina Sapienza in Dante e nella letteratura russa del primo Novecento' 3. Chiara Valcelli (University College Cork), 'A Tale of Two Cities: An Affective Study of Dante's Florence and Joyce's Dublin' 4. Domenico Fadda (University for Foreigners of Perugia), «Che per lei m'inforsava alta paura». Rewriting Dante's Fear in 19th-century Versions of the Inferno'	Unveiling the Body 1. Xiying Wang (University of Manchester), 'The Iconography of Nudity in the Commedia and the Denuded Body in Dante Manuscripts' 2. Daniela Shalom Vagata (Masaryk University), 'Heart and Gestures in Ugo Foscolo's Inni alle Grazie and Epistolary' 3. Vanessa Santoro (University of Glasgow), 'Between Anxiety and Fear: Fashion, Women and Negative Emotions in Irene Brin's Journalism' 4. Davide Messina (University of Edinburgh), 'Calvino's Guizzo: A Semiotic Passion' e specularità» nella poesia di Milo De Angelis'

	Tea, coffee, and cake
16-17	Final round table (Day 1): Heather Webb, Virginia Cox, Daragh O'Connell, Robert Gordon, Chiara Giuliani
19 for 19.30	Conference dinner (Selwyn Hall)

8 September

	Session 1 (the Auditorium)	Session 2 (the Diamond)	Session 3 (the Chadwick Room)	Session 4 (the Walters Room)
9.30-11	Affects of the Encounter 1. Elsina Caponetti (University College Cork), ‘Body and Soul: Dynamics of Detachment and Reconjuncture in Dante’s Commedia and in the Medieval Visionary Tradition’ 2. Ruoci Song (University of Cambridge), ‘Dante’s Multifaceted Affection for Virgil Expressed through Appellatives’ 3. Giulia Gaimari (University of Toronto), “Far piangere altrui”: Empathy and Friendship in Dante’s Vita Nova’ 4. Fabio Simonetti (Brunel University London), ‘A Sensory Liberation: The Wartime Encounter between British Soldiers and Italian Civilians’	Circulation of Affect 1. Helena Phillips-Robins (University of Cambridge), ‘Affect and the Shared Language of Prayer in Dante and Clare of Assisi’ 2. Charlotte Alton (University of Cambridge), ‘Rethinking the Role of Negative Affect in Decameron Day Four’ 3. Lorenzo Bartoli (Universidad Autónoma de Madrid), ‘Filologia della colpa: la confessione in Dante, Petrarca e Boccaccio’ 4. Cora Rok (University of Heidelberg), ‘Shame and Femininity. A Comparative Study of 19th-century Italian and French Female Writers’	Affects in Modern Media 1. Joseph Perna (New York University), ‘Modernist Melodrama: Ophuls and Ruttman in Italy’ 2. Emma Barron (University of Melbourne), ‘45 MOGLIE SU 100 DELUSE DAL MATRIMONIO’: Post-war Market Research and Emotion’ 3. Stefano Adamo (Banja Luka University), ‘The Impact of Emotions on Financial Decisions: An Exploration through Literature’ 4. Francesca Medaglia (Sapienza Università di Roma), ‘La narrazione delle emozioni nella complessità seriale tra Stati Uniti e Italia’	Affects Staged and Performed 1. Serena Laiena (University College Dublin), ‘Shades of Madness: Performing the Pazzia on the Early Modern Stage’ 2. Kate Mitchell (University of Strathclyde), ‘Beyond the Female Gaze: The Affective Force of Matilde Serao’s Screenwriting and Her Writings on Screenplays’ 3. Maurizio Rebaudengo (Universität Zürich), ‘Sacra persona: l’emozione fisica del sacro in quattro regie liriche di Emma Dante e Damiano Michieletto’
	Tea, coffee, and pastries

11.30-13	Shaping Collective Memory 1. Yam Traiber (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), 'A Collective Memory without a Group: The Failure of Empathy in Natalia Ginzburg's Writing' 2. Giovanni Miglianti (Wesleyan University), 'Toward an Affective History of Italian Holocaust Memory' 3. Mara Josi (University of Manchester), 'Hidden Emotions: Holocaust-related Experiences in Occupied Italy' 4. Elisa Russian (Universität Zürich), 'Race and the Literary Politics of Affective Detachment'	Transnational Affects 1. Laura Ingallinella (University of Toronto), 'Language, Gesture, and Affective Geographies in Fazio degli Uberti's Dittamondo (c. 1367)' 2. Karin Peters (University of Bonn), 'Transnational Affect: Garcilaso de la Vega and the Neapolitan Vector in Poetry' 3. Gloria Moorman (University of Manchester), "Quasi in un momento volando coll'Ingegno": Cosmography as Visual Language of Victory in Venice and France' 4. Laura Rorato (Lancaster University), 'Travel, Liminality, and Affect in the Works of Genni Gunn'	Lexicon of Affect 1. Anne C. Leone (Syracuse University), 'Venting and Expression in Dante and the Medieval Context' 2. Ester Baldi (Università per Stranieri di Siena), 'Da «tenero amore» a «tenero dell'onore»: il lessico della tenerezza di Giovanni Boccaccio' 3. Sara Giovine (Scuola Superiore Meridionale), 'Lessico degli affetti e delle emozioni nelle lettere di nobildonne italiane del Rinascimento' 4. Céline Powell (LMU München), 'Il cuore: lo specchio di un mondo in cambiamento'	Skin Deep? Sensation and Affective Reactions 1. Rebecca Reilly (University of Cambridge), 'Affective Devotion and the Liminality of Touch in Angela of Foligno's Liber' 2. Bili Zhong (Sun Yat-sen University), 'Tasting Divine in the Commedia: Bread as a Window to Affective Piety' 3. Rebecca Bowen (University of Oxford), 'Movement and Beatitude in Botticelli's Illustrations to the Commedia (c.1490s)' 4. Bianca Rita Cataldi (University College Dublin), 'Of Sensation and Affect: Women and Seductresses in Annie Vivanti's Early Fiction'
	Selwyn lunch (Hall; pay-for-yourself)
14-15.30	Roundtable: 'Mental Health in PhD and ECR Community' (organized by SIS Early-Career Academic (ECA) Representatives Federica Coluzzi, Chiara Giuliani, and Paolo Saporito)

	Tea, coffee, and cake
16-17	Final round table (Day 2): Emma Bond, Jessica Maratsos, Robert Gordon, Aistė Kiltinavičiūtė
17.30	Closing drinks reception
19	Dinner for any remaining participants (pay-for-yourself, in a local restaurant)